

News from the
Randolph-Decker Public Library

On Friday, April 4th, 15 children attended Randolph-Decker Storytime. The books, Pavlo Gets the Grumps and Shake a Leg were read, followed by a paper duck craft. Because of the cold and rain, the local daycare was unable to walk to the library for Storytime. A new outreach program has been started to bring Storytime to the daycares when they are unable to attend. Friday, Storytime was brought to Tanna's Tots Daycare after Randolph-Decker storytime. The children there were read two books and were brought the craft supplies to make their own paper ducks.

Early Eagle Storytime will be on Friday, April 11th at 9:30 am followed by a Golf Cart Scavenger Hunt in the evening. Registration for the hunt is at 6:30 pm and the hunt begins at 6:45pm. Root beer floats will be served after the hunt.

There is a new addition to the library! A new coffee bar and water dispenser are now available for our patrons to use when they are at the library.

Many new books were added to the library collection this week and Rotating Books from CKLS also arrived this week! Lots of new titles to choose from!

Ellee Max Branfort, daughter of Jordan and Ashley Branfort, is the newest member of the Randolph-Decker Public Library Born To Read Program.

Ellee, born February 16, 2025, was presented the book, "Read to Your Baby Every Day" to begin her love of books! The library will also be dedicating a new book in Ellee's names.

Welcome to our new Little Listener!
