MEASLES

when an infected person talks, sneezes or coughs. People who are not vaccinated or lack immunity are especially at risk of becoming infected. Symptoms of measles typically begin with a high fever, cough, runny nose, and red, watery eyes. Three to five days after symptoms begin, a skin rash develops and usually starts on the face and spreads down to the neck, trunk, arms and legs. During a measles outbreak, about one in five children who get sick will need hospital care, and one in 20 will develop pneumonia. Rarely, measles can lead to swelling of the brain and death. It can also cause pregnancy complica- tions, such as premature birth and babies with low birth weight. Providers should report any suspected cases to the KDHE Epidemiology Hotline at 877-427-7317, option 5, immediately, preferably while the patient is still with the provider. For more information about measles, how to find your vaccine records and answers to common questions, visit the KDHE Measles Resource Hub online kdhe.ks.gov.

Iowa, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, South Dakota, and Wyoming. Its electric utility will serve approximately 700,000 customers and operate approximately 38,000 miles of electric lines and approximately 2.9 gigawatts of owned generation capacity fueled by a mix of thermal, hydro, and wind. Its natural gas utility will serve approximately 1.4 million customers and operate approximately 59,000 miles of natural gas lines. Over time, this increased scale is expected to drive operating and cost efficiencies across the combined enterprise. The combined company will be headquartered in Rapid City,

S.D., and will maintain a strong operational and leadership presence throughout the combined service territory, consistent with the practices of the companies prior to closing. The combined company will have a new name and ticker symbol, to be determined prior to the close of the transaction. The operating companies are expected to maintain their current names at transaction closing.

Here’s How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
