KS Board of Regents selects new leaders

By TIM CARPENTER
Kansas Reflector

TOPEKA — A Pittsburg economic development professional and a Dodge City public school diversity and language director were chosen to lead the Kansas Board of Regents during the upcoming fiscal year.

Blake Benson was elected to serve as chairperson of the nine-member public higher education board, while Diana Mendoza was selected as vice chairperson. The board has governance authority over six state universities and a co-ordination role with Washburn University in Topeka and the state's technical and community colleges.

Both were appointed to the state Board of Regents in 2022 by Democratic Gov. Laura Kelly.

Benson is in the 28th year of economic development work, and previously held positions in chamber of commerce organizations in Rogers and Fort Smith in Arkansas.

Mendoza, executive director of diversity and English for speakers of other languages in the Dodge City school district, works with teachers to develop best practices for the education of culturally and linguistically diverse students. She leads an effort to support migratory youth.

She said she was committed to making higher education beneficial to Kansas families and a contributing influence on the state's economy.
