Malbrough said the county currently archives, or journals, emails from employee accounts. He said the emails are kept for open records requests or requests from the county's legal staff.

Without the services of ArcTitan, the county would lose the ability to archive emails when it switches the online system. Malbrough said the archiving service also comes with an annual

The county government archives the emails from all departments except for the County Attorney's Office and Sheriff's Office. These two offices previously requested exemptions from the archiving, which were granted by the County Commission.
