Police campaigns on tap

The Yates Center Police Department will be engaging in three campaigns over the next few weeks. The first two campaigns are aimed at targeting impaired driving. The third is for occupant safety.
Saturday, March 15, and Saturday, March 22, the Yates Center Police Department will be conducting saturation patrols targeting impaired drivers.
The police department would like to remind people if you choose to use impairing substances do not choose to drive. An impaired driver not only endangers their life but they also endanger the lives of other members of the public as well. This is an Impaired Driver Deterrent Program funded event.

Yates Center Police Department will conduct enforcement campaign near high schools beginning Monday, March 24 through Friday, April 4. The Yates Center Police Department will join other law enforcement agencies in Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma with increased enforcement near high schools to raise awareness on roadway safety. Motor vehicle crashes are the leading cause of death for teens 15 to 18 years old, in the United States – ahead of all other types of injury, disease or violence. “Even one teen death is unacceptable,” Chief Strode said. “Please slow down, put the phone away or turn it off, and always buckle up.” Officers will issue citations to any individual who refuses to obey the traffic laws, whether it is for speeding, texting or failing to buckle up. Remind teens that driving is a privilege and encourage them to learn about the importance of driving safely.
