This decadent dessert is fit for a holiday feast

Feasts are a big part of the holiday season. In the United States, the holiday season kicks off with Thanksgiving, which is celebrated on the final Thursday of November. Thanksgiving is synonymous with food, which also plays a prominent role on faith-based December holidays like Chanukah and Christmas.

Entrées may garner the bulk of the attention at holiday dinners, but desserts might be the most anticipated component of the feast. When sitting down for a holiday meal with the family this season, hosts can meet guests' expectations and then some with this recipe for "Chocolate Mousse Cake With Raspberries" courtesy of Lines+Angles.

Chocolate Mousse Cake With Raspberries

Makes 1 cake

4 8-inch chocolate cake layers, cooled and leveled (2 boxes cake mix)

1 cup good quality dark chocolate chips

1/2 cup warm water

1/2 cup unsweetened cocoa powder, plus additional for dusting

2 cups heavy whipping cream

1/4 cup powdered sugar

2 teaspoons vanilla extract

1/8 teaspoon salt

4 cups fresh raspberries

1 16-ounce tub chocolate buttercream frosting

1. Bake two box chocolate cake mixes per instructions on the box, yielding 4 total cake layers at 8" round.

2. Melt the chocolate chips in a double boiler or in the microwave in 20- to 30-second increments.

3. In a small bowl, whisk together the warm water and cocoa powder. Pour the mixture into the bowl with the melted chocolate and continue to whisk until smooth. Set aside.

4. In a separate large mixing bowl, or the bowl of a stand mixer, combine the heavy cream, powdered sugar, vanilla extract and salt. Using the whisk attachment, beat the mixture on medium-high speed until thickened and able to hold its shape, about 3 minutes.

5. Gently fold the chocolate mixture into the whipped cream using a rubber spatula, until just combined. Do not over-mix or the mousse will become deflated. Cover with plastic wrap and chill for at least 2 hours.

6. Place the first cake layer on a cake board and spread 1/3 of the chocolate mousse on the cake. Gently press 1 cup of the raspberries into the mousse and continue to assemble by repeating the steps; ending with a layer of cake. Freeze the cake for about 10 minutes.

7. Remove the cake from the freezer and frost the entire cake with the buttercream frosting. Top with the remaining cup of raspberries and lightly dust with cocoa powder.
