"Shingles Vaccines"

By Dr. Kelly Evans Hullinger

Too many people know the pain of having shingles. Shingles, or Zoster, occurs when a Herpes virus, the same one which caused chicken pox in childhood, reemerges from dormancy in a spinal nerve. Symptoms include nerve pain and tingling followed by an eruption of a blistery red rash over the distribution following that nerve.

Typically the rash of shingles lasts up to a couple of weeks, but for some patients the associated nerve pain can continue and even be permanent, a condition known as post-herpetic neuralgia. A minority of patients are left with a chronic pain which can be very difficult to treat.

The duration of shingles, and the odds of developing post-herpetic neuralgia, can be reduced if an antiviral medication is started within the first 3 days of symptoms. But we have an even better option, a vaccine which reduces the risk of getting shingles at all.

The FDA approved vaccine for shingles is recommended for all adults age 50 and older and for younger adults who are immunocompromised. The vaccine is comprised of two doses, ideally given 2-6 months apart. Patients who receive both doses have over 90% reduced chance of getting shingles.

Already had shingles? You will still benefit from getting the vaccine series, as it will reduce your odds of a recurrence. Got the first shot but forgot to come back in 2-6 months? No big deal – just get the second dose now and you'll be caught up.

Exciting recent research suggests the vaccine against shingles may be associated with lower risk of other diseases as we age, including dementia. Although we can't yet be certain of a causative link, the numbers are promising enough that this may add another good reason to not miss out on an effective vaccine.

Decades from now, when the children who have benefitted from widespread vaccination against the chicken pox virus (VZV) reach their 50's, recommendations for shingles vaccination may change. But for now, we adults who had chicken pox (and if you don't recall having over chicken pox, you almost certainly still had the virus) clearly benefit from the shingles vaccine. I recommend it for all my eligible patients.

Daughters of Isabella September Meeting

The State Regent and State Treasurer were present before the meeting to audit our books.

Regent Betty Hockersmith called the regular monthly meeting to order on Thursday, Sept.10, 2026. All joined in the opening prayer and remained standing for the Pledge of Allegiance.

Betty read the Salina Diocese "The Journey to Priesthood: Formation of a Priest." The first is a call from God and a willingness to say "yes". Following stages (Propaedeutic, Discipleship, Configuration) include many years of prayer, formation, studying philosophy, theology, Scripture, and sacraments before the final stages of Vocational Synthesis (being ordained and serving as a transitional deacon) and then Priestly Ordination.

Recording Secretary Rosanne called the roll of officers. The June business and August auditors meeting minutes were read and approved.

Regent Betty read correspondence from our State Regent Peggy Feltis. Peggy reported on the International Convention in Canada this summer. All of the proposed changes to the Constitution were approved at the Convention. She also told us about several changes coming to our State and International D of I. The State Conference will be held this October in Great Bend, and the State Convention will be held in two years at Hutchinson. That will mark the 100th anniversary of the Daughters of Isabella in Kansas.

We sent a get well card, prayed for the prevention of human trafficking, for the unborn who are in danger of abortion, for God's blessings upon our youth and young adults, for evangelization, and for the return of non-practicing Catholics. There was a short discussion of the D of I hosting a food/fellowship gathering.

Treasurer Elaine reported on the bank balance.

The regent adjourned the meeting following the closing prayer.

The next regular meeting will be Thursday, October 8, with Pat Ryan and Melany Maurath as hostesses. ~rl

Every Drop Counts

NHS members help the Red Cross

Emily Hrabe, News Reporter

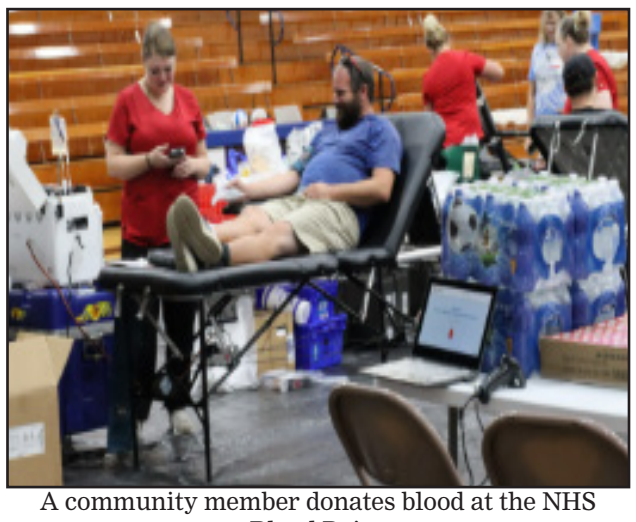

On September 11, 2026 Wheatland High School hosted a blood drive for our community.

WHS National Honor Society members helped Red Cross load out all the equipment that they needed for the day. NHS members also called people to make sure they would remember their appointments, and helped people check in for their appointments.

Many students and staff made the decision to give blood that day. A total of five staff members and six students. NHS had a goal of 39 donations and they received 40 donations which included power red donations as well. Power red is taking out the red blood cells and then the plasma and platelets get put back into the body.

Mrs. Wolf stated, "I think it was really cool for WHS to host a blood drive since I have not gotten the opportunity to donate blood for several years."

Miss Wetter stated, " Thank you to everyone who came to donate blood. Not only does donating save lives, but NHS students benefit from the blood drive as American Red Cross gives scholarship money to graduating seniors."
