college degree and twice as likely to obtain vocational/technical training or serve in the military. Furthermore, 4-H members are 20 percent more likely to hold leadership roles in their schools or communities.

I highly encourage everyone to visit a fair near you this year. Youngsters and families alike have spent countless hours, sleepless nights, endured sibling feuds, shed a few tears, grumbled and complained, whined, moaned and baked countless cookies just to get a handful good enough for presentation. By the way, I’ve eaten a lot of red ribbon cookies in my day, but they were well worth the journey to see practice make perfect come fair time.

Take time to ask a 4-H member about their project, whether it be in a barn, the wash rack, a display case or on a table. It’s great communication skills practice for the kids, and even better community involvement for you. Today’s youth are tomorrow’s leaders, and we should all do our part to see that they have the best opportunities for growth, learning and all levels of success and achievement. There’s absolutely nothing wrong with helping to “make the best better.”
